The route proposed is from the Gulf of Riga along the rivers Duna, Beresina, and Dnieper to Kherson, on the Black Sea, and fifteen ports or harbors are to be constructed at various places situated along its whole course of 994 miles. The channels of the rivers are to be deepened and new cuttings made where necessary so as o give a minimum depth of twentyeight feet of water. It is estimated to cost £20,000,000, or about £5,000,-000 less than the amount said to be required for cutting the Nicaragua canal and it will take five years to complete. The primary object of this great waterway is to connect the naval dockyards at Libau with those at Nicolaieff, and permit the passage of Russian men-of-war from the Black Sea to the Baltic, and vice versa, thus neutralizing to some extent the clos- BAY horse, in Punahou: two white ing of the Bosphorus and Dardenelles in time of war.
